

NOT ALL HEROES WEAR CAPES.

Some simply have responsibility at Hübner Giessen.

We are currently looking for: Sales Manager Europe (gn*)

We don't see our heroes in the cinema. We see them every day at work. And they are our employees who develop tailor-made solutions with extraordinary ideas and who also perform reliably under the most extreme conditions. In this way, the entire Hübner team contributes toward making difficult things easier and mastering the big challenges of heavy industry and other fields with harsh operating conditions.

What we offer you:

As part of Johannes Hübner Giessen, a solidly dependable and innovative employer awaits you, offering a fair partnership, worthwhile prospects and exceptional career opportunities. This includes working in an internationally successful team with short decision-making paths in a modern environment with an exceptional work atmosphere. After all, we want you to feel comfortable at your workplace.

Your areas of responsibility:

- Operational and strategic market development
- Supporting, assisting and training our partners on-site
- Providing personal support and advice for customers from fields such as the mining, crane, steel, oil & gas and railway industries
- Preparing tenders and offers, including calculation
- Working in close cooperation with the Product Management, Marketing and Development teams
